DETAILED ACTION

Continued Prosecution Application

1. The request filed on 1/26/07 for a Continued Examination (RCE) is accepted and a RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-9 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shimanaka et al, USP PGPub 2004/0127313.
4. The applied reference has a common assignee and one like inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.
5. Re clms 1-9, Shimanaka discloses a v-belt type CVT (1) for a vehicle comprising:
 - A source of a line pressure (11)

Art Unit: 3682

- Primary and secondary pulleys (2 and 3) arranged on input and output sides, the pulleys being subjected to primary-pulley and secondary-pulley pressures produced from the line pressure
- A V-belt (4) loop over the primary and secondary pulleys (2 and 3), the V-belt engaging in V-grooves in the pulleys, the groove being changed in width through a differential pressure between the pulley pressures
- An electronic control unit which controls the line pressure, the ECU being programmed to (paragraphs 0013-0063 discusses CVT and the operation sequence of controller and Figure 5):
 - Input a first torque signal obtained by estimating an estimated engine torque in accordance with an engine rotation speed and the target shift ration in accordance with vehicle operating conditions (paragraph 0016)
 - Input a second torque signal obtained by detecting an actual engine torque, wherein the actual engine torque is derived by calculating at least the engine rotation speed and a fuel injection period (paragraph 0022)
 - Synthesize the first and second torque signals to provide an estimated-torque signal; Control the line pressure in accordance with the estimated-torque signal; To set the first torque signal as the estimated-torque signal when the engine torque rises; Subject the first torque signal to differential processing and smoothing processing; Determine a sum of the first torque signal as subjected and the second torque signal; Determine a greater one of the first and second torque signals; Determine a smaller one of the sum and the greater one; Set the smaller one of the sum and the greater one; Set the smaller one as the estimated-torque signal (paragraphs 0022-0063)

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
